

F.A. Seiberling Nature Realm

A 104-acre property dedicated to the preservation of the natural plant and animal life of Northeastern Ohio.

F.A. Seiberling Nature Realm is named in honor of F.A. Seiberling, the founder of Goodyear Tire and Rubber, who donated over 400 acres of land to establish the adjacent Sand Run Metro Park in 1922. The property features an underground Visitors Center and a Volunteer Center serving hundreds of Metro Parks volunteers. Visitors can also enjoy a rock and herb garden, vine arbors, pond observation decks, a suspension bridge and several trails that pass through groves of trees, shrubs, seasonal flowers and other plant life displays.
