

MAMMALS

Opossum

American Beaver

A mammal is a warm-blooded animal of a class that is distinguished by having hair or fur. Females produce milk to feed their young, which are typically born live versus in an egg that later hatches.

1. Can you name Ohio's native marsupial? _____
2. What Ohio animal has antlers? _____
3. What Ohio mammal has the most teeth? _____
4. Which type of squirrel is the most numerous in Ohio? _____
5. How long can a beaver hold its breath? _____
6. What is the largest native canine (dog) living in Ohio today? _____
7. What canine (dog) can climb trees? _____
8. What is the largest rodent in North America? _____
9. A squirrel's teeth constantly grow. On average, how much growth occurs to their teeth in one year? _____
10. What group of mammals can fly? _____
11. What Ohio mammal has 22 tentacles on its nose? _____

summitmetroparks.org | #AtHomeInNature

Answers:
 1. Opossum
 2. White-tailed Deer
 3. Opossum (50 teeth total)
 4. Flying Squirrel
 5. 15 minutes
 6. Coyote
 7. Grey Fox
 8. Beaver, up to 60 lbs.
 9. 6"
 10. Bats
 11. Star-nosed Mole